Apprenticeships & Traineeships

Preparation Checklist

Make sure you're on the right track to get the most out of an Australian Apprenticeship, whether you're an apprentice or a trainee. The list will help you to make sure that you're prepared to start an Australian Apprenticeship or Traineeship. Click here and then click on 'Starting an Australian Apprenticeship' Read each statement and select your answer. This is not a formal assessment and each question is optional. You'll be given tips to help you learn more about Australian Apprenticeships along the way.

QANTAS Apprenticeship Program

The Qantas Group Engineering Apprenticeship Program offers an in-depth four-year program as a full-time engineering apprentice. They offer a variety of apprenticeships at their Brisbane, Canberra, Melbourne, Perth, and Sydney airport maintenance facilities. Opportunities include aircraft trades (avionic, mechanical, and structural) and non-aircraft trades. Availability of trades may differ from year to year. Click here to find out more about:

- Aircraft trades
- Mechanical Apprenticeships
- Avionic Apprenticeships
- Structural Apprenticeships
- Non-Aircraft Trades

- FAQs

QBuild apprenticeships

The Queensland Government is looking for trade apprentices to join the QBuild team. Trades available include carpentry, refrigeration mechanics, electrical, painting, and plumbing across Queensland. There's plenty of variety for a QBuild apprentice with no two days the same. One day an apprentice could work on a new build, and the next, could perform restoration or maintenance work on a heritage building. A QBuild apprenticeship offers a flexible, safe, inclusive and diverse work environment with a chance to earn income while you learn. Click here for more information.

Skills Gateway

On the Skills Gateway you can search course information to find qualifications, government funding and training providers. You can also find a Skilling Queenslanders for Work project near you. Click here for more information including:

Occupations and jobs - Find out more

'Occupation' is the name given to the type of work a person does. For example, a doctor, mechanic, project manager, physiotherapist or cabinet maker. You'll probably work in a number of different occupations over the course of your working life. The good news? Many of the skills and abilities developed working in one occupation are directly transferable and applicable to others. The Job Outlook website has information on hundreds of different occupations. They also offer job descriptions and details of average wages and main tasks. By exploring the website, you can get a sense of the kind of work that might suit you. The site can also help you understand the skills and roles that will be in demand in the future. You can also do a Career Quiz that will give you some ideas for further research.

Robotics in Australia

Robotics and automation development and adoption will be crucial to building a Future Made in Australia. We will do this in a responsible way that will allow everyone to share in the full benefits of these technologies.

These technologies can help our economy by:

- allowing Australian companies to scale and boost their productivity
- assisting in the rollout of our net zero economy
- addressing workforce shortages in sectors already under pressure.

The Australian Government identified robotics as a critical technology in the national interest. Click here to read the report including Building Australia's robotics future and the latest robotics news.

Where can a post school qualification or Bachelor's degree get you?

The skills and knowledge gained from various academic disciplines can be applied to an array of occupations. Although this is a Canadian model the informatics can give you a great understanding of the wide range of jobs that qualifications can lead to - and not just the obvious ones! Graduates with a Bachelor's degree and graduates with a college credential below degree level (ie VET qualification) are dispersed across multiple occupations within the labour market, irrespective of their field of study. Check out the article and informatics here (scroll down to see the informatic). Open your mind to the endless possibilities!

Work experience and why it matters

Work experience can open up your mind to the great possibilities for work. You can learn a lot about:

- the workplace you visit
- the types of education and training required to enter different jobs
- how the job might fit within your own life.

Often parents and students think that the purpose of work experience is to assist you to obtain part-time work. This undervalues work experience as a program to help you explore, develop and refine your career ideas. So how do you get the most out of work experience? Read about a few points that you could consider:

- Be informed
- Be prepared
- Start now
- Be resilient
- Be involved

ATAR Portal registration

Have you registered on the ATAR portal to have your ATAR calculated by QTAC? Remember, when registering for the ATAR portal, you must use your personal email address. If you have registered using your school email address, now is the time to change it to your personal email address which will ensure you won't get locked out of your account once you graduate. To update your email address, log into the ATAR portal and update via the portal. If you have forgotten your password, you need to call QTAC on 1300 467 822. Visit the QTAC ATAR page for more information!

How to Respond to an offer

Visit the QTAC Offers webpage for specific information about responding to your offer. It's important to understand how you'll be notified and how to respond quickly to secure your place. It's important to know what options are available to you and how you will respond if you receive an offer. Click here (click on Offers at the top of the page) to find out more including:

- How QTAC will notify you
- Responding to an offer
 - Accept - Check with the institution for enrolment details and dates
 - Conditional response - By selecting a conditional response, you indicate that you would like to be considered for a higher preference
 - Defer - Rules for course deferral vary by institution. Please visit our deferment page on our website for institution policies
 - I no longer wish to study - By rejecting your offer outright, you notify QTAC that you no longer wish to study or be considered for any other preferences
- What to do if you didn't get an offer

It is essential that you respond by the due date (usually within four (4) days of receiving your offer). If you don't, your offer will lapse and you will not be considered for any other offer rounds. If you miss a due date, contact QTAC as soon as possible. Also, it may not be wise to reject an offer. If you are considering doing this, first contact QTAC on 1300 467 822 to discuss this move.

Manage your QTAC application!

After you have lodged your application, it is a good idea to login into your application from time to time to:

- Update your contact details - Phone QTAC on 1300 467 822 to change your name, date of birth, citizenship status, gender, Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander, Maori, Pasifika or Australian South Sea Islander status, gender or qualification details.
- See if you have received any correspondence from QTAC about your application
- See if you are meeting the entry requirements
- See if you have submitted any and all necessary additional documentation
- See if you get an offer?
- Q&A section

QTAC will usually communicate with you using the email address on your application (this should be your personal email - not your school email). Get into the habit of checking your emails regularly including Junk. Think of linking your emails to your smart phone to make it easy for you to regularly check. Read Pages 15 and 16 of your QTAC Guide for more information.

It is recommended that Year 12 students apply to QTAC early. Some courses have early and/or fixed closing dates which must be met and you can find these on Page 19 and 20 of your 2025 QTAC Guide. Also, if you are competitive (ATAR results) you may be offered a place before the major offer round in January. View the key dates here.

Pathways to university study

While an ATAR is still the most popular pathway to gaining entry to your preferred university course, it is not the only pathway available in Queensland. If you don't achieve your university course goal straight after Year 12, it is not the end of the road. There are many upgrading pathways available to you. Several tertiary institutions have web pages dedicated to the alternative pathways to tertiary studies.

- Australian Catholic University – Admission Pathways
- Bond University – Diploma Preparation Program
- CQUniversity – Entry Pathway
- Griffith University - Admission Pathways
- James Cook University – Discover Your Pathway
- Queensland University of Technology – Admission Pathways
- TAFE Queensland – University pathways
- University of Queensland – Consider your pathway options
- University of Southern Queensland – Pathway Programs
- University of the Sunshine Coast – Uni Pathways

Also, check out the Upgrading Pathways page on the QTAC website. Note that some of the pathways are specific to the institution that is listing them. You should always check that the institution you want to go to accepts the pathway you are thinking of choosing.

Rural Access Scheme (RAS)

The Rural Access Scheme (RAS) is for students who have lived in rural and remote areas for five years consecutively or ten years cumulatively across any period in their lifetime. The RAS could see you benefit from a rank adjustment or a designated rural and remote quota place. Rural/remote status is determined by the Modified Monash Model (MM) category 2- 7. Check your address here. A school letter is the best evidence of rural residence. Click here to find the application form.

Some QTAC Q&As

Q. I applied for the Educational Access Scheme (EAS) when I applied to QTAC. What do I need to do now?

A. If you didn't download an Educational Access Scheme cover sheet/s for the category/categories you are applying for, click here and scroll down to EAS info, then click on the relevant EAS category. The cover sheet/sheets provide a list of all documentation that you will need to submit to QTAC by the Key dates.

Q. I didn't apply for the Educational Access Scheme (EAS) when I applied to QTAC. Can I still apply for EAS?

A. Yes. You can go back into your application and apply for EAS. Then you need to download the relevant cover sheet (or sheets) from the Assistance Scheme page (scroll down) on the QTAC website. Complete all the requirements listed on the cover sheet. Attach any required supporting documents by uploading to your QTAC application or post your completed EAS application to QTAC. Some cover sheets may require a school statement. QTAC would like Year 12 students to submit their EAS applications by the end of October.

Q. I am totally confused about offer rounds. According to the 2025 Year 12 Guide, the offer-round for my courses is 11 January 2025. Now I hear that I could get an earlier offer.

A. Institutions can give offers to eligible applicants (i.e. applicants who have met all the entry requirements) at different times. Visit the Course Offer Dates page on the QTAC website for dates when institutions might give offers. Offers will be made on all offer-round dates. It is essential that you keep checking your emails as this is how QTAC will let you know you have an offer (don't forget to check your Spam or Junk box!). This is critical as you must respond to an offer by the due date (often within 4 days) or your offer will lapse and you will not be considered for any other courses in future offer rounds.

Q. I applied for a university course that requires an audition but didn't do the audition. Will I still be considered for entry into this course?

A. You should contact the university. However, the answer will probably be 'No'.

Q. I am not sure what my ATAR will be. The Pathways (preferences 5 and 6) courses on my QTAC application have previous minimum thresholds of ATAR 78. Is this a good enough safety net?

A. No. It is advisable to select pathways courses (especially your 6th preference) which indicate that all applicants received an offer in 2024. Remember, you can always go back into your QTAC application AFTER you receive your ATAR and make any changes to your preferences that will see you competitive in gaining a place in a course in 2025.

Q. Where can I get help with my QTAC application after I leave school?

A. Your best source of help at that time of the year is QTAC. You can ring QTAC on 1300 467 822 or use the Contact Us page on the QTAC website. You may want to email as the QTAC phone is very busy at this time of year and you need to be patient as you will be placed on a queue.

The Educational Access Scheme (EAS) reminder

If you have been negatively impacted by circumstances beyond your control, Educational Access Scheme (EAS) may assist you in reaching your study dreams with rank adjustments. You might think of the obvious factors impacting your students like financial hardship, illness or disabilities, however, EAS may also help in times of natural disasters. Click here for more information about the Scheme, categories and eligibility.

USI: All you need to know

The USI (Unique Student Identifier) is a student's individual education number for life. From January 2023 the USI has been mandatory for all higher education students graduating in 2023 or beyond. You need a USI if you are:

- a higher education student graduating in 2023 or beyond
- undertaking Nationally Recognised Training (e.g. VET qualifications)
- a higher education student seeking Commonwealth financial assistance (e.g. a HECS-HELP loan)
- an international student studying onshore in Australia

Australian school students need to create a USI before they apply for tertiary study. There is no minimum age requirement to create a USI. Find out more about the USI on the Australian Government website.

Final subject results for 2024 Year 12 students

Final subject results and Senior Education Profiles (SEPs) for 2024 Year 12 graduates will be available from 9.00 am on Wednesday 11 December 2024. You can access them via your learning account in the Student Portal on the myQCE website. You will need your 10-digit Learner Unique Identifier (LUI) if you haven't as yet registered for the Student Portal. The Results FAQs contain information to help you understand your results and access your Senior Education Profile (SEP) when it is available. Study Skills and Wellbeing

5 tips to help you cope with stress

Research from the American Mental Health First Aid indicates that high school students spend most of their time attending classes, participating in extracurricular activities and doing homework. There is constant pressure to do everything and do it well to prepare for a successful career or higher education after high school. This can cause a lot of stress. Although a moderate amount of stress in our lives is manageable, excess stress doesn't get you anywhere positive. This article provides you with some tips to manage your stress in a healthy way such as:

1. Get some sleep
2. Focus on your strengths
3. Do things that make you happy
4. Engage in physical activity
5. Talk to someone

Effective ways to memorise for exams

Studying for exams is challenging but with some tips it can not be as stressful. Click here to read an article written by Jess Holsman, Deakin psychology graduate and founder of YouTube's 'Study With Jess', where she gives advice to thousands of students around the world on effective study. She outlines some different study techniques that involve active learning and that are tailored to each of the four types of learning styles:

- Visual learners
- Auditory learners
- Read and write learners
- Kinaesthetic/Physical learners

Stress - How well am I managing it?

Things I wish I knew before leaving school

Felicia Jaremus is a researcher at the University of Newcastle. The following information comes from a research project led by Felicia and funded by the National Centre for Student Equity in Higher Education. She interviewed 21 young people to gain an understanding of the pathways they took and the choices they made since leaving school and how these related to their aspirations at school. The young people were given the opportunity to reflect on what they wish they had known when they were at school. Their advice may help you better prepare for life after school. Click here to read about some of their thoughts including:

- There are different ways to enter university other than the Australian Tertiary Admissions Ranking (ATAR)
- Hearing from students who have recently left school
- Not everyone completes their degree and jobs after university can be hard to get
- It's ok not to go to university
- There are many career options, including those that don't require a university degree

Mental health and wellbeing are important when considering the future

Free TAFE for Year 12 graduates

To support Queensland's Year 12 graduates to successfully transition to employment, the Government is offering fee-free TAFE in high priority qualifications. The training is available through a range of Certificate III level vocational education and training (VET) courses as well as apprenticeships and traineeships. View the courses offered by TAFE Queensland and the full list of high priority qualifications is available on the Department of Employment, Small Business and Training website.

Census date at Uni - important information if you are not happy at Uni

Census date is the date at which your enrolment and fee arrangements/responsibilities are considered finalised for the study period. Census date is the last date you can drop a course/subject/s without receiving a financial or academic penalty. Each university has their individual policies and you can find them by simply googling 'Census Date + Universities'. If you want to leave or defer a course/degree, make sure you talk with Student Services BEFORE census date.

Student One - Brisbane Student Accommodation

Student One knows that when deciding where to live, it's important to consider more than just your place of study. You're choosing your new home, so your surroundings, cost of living, work life, and social life should all be taken into account. Their location in Brisbane's central business district puts you just a short walk away from major universities, shopping centers, entertainment and nightlife. With easy access to all that Brisbane has to offer, you can explore the city and get where you need to go quickly.

The five most common university myths debunked

There are popular myths about university study some of which are:

First year Uni doesn't count – False. At most universities, first year results contribute to your final grade point average (GPA). Your GPA is of interest to future employers. Furthermore, your first year GPA (if good enough) can be used to be competitive for entry to your preferred course if you didn't get straight into it from school. You can apply for scholarships once you get to Uni and your GPA is important when applying for these scholarships.

I'll be paying off my HECS-HELP debt for the rest of my life – False. The HECS-HELP loan scheme helps you pay your part of the cost of the course you are studying (called 'Student contribution'). You begin paying it through the Australian Tax Office as part of your income tax once you have completed your course and are earning a threshold amount ($51,550 from 1 July 2023). You don't pay interest on your debt, but it is indexed each year to reflect changes in the Consumer Price Index. Click here to access current Commonwealth Supported Places and HECS-HELP information.

I'll never find a job after graduation – Competition for jobs is high. However, you can increase your employability while you are studying by gaining work experience in the field in which you want to work. This not only looks good on your resume, but it also gives employers a chance to see what sort of worker you are. Don't wait until your final year at uni to start looking for jobs. Access the uni Careers and Employment services and programs early during your studies.

If I don't make friends during O Week, I never will – For those who don't know, O Week is Orientation Week which is usually the week before lectures begin. This is an important week as the information you receive will introduce you to the support services and other activities available. You will have many additional opportunities to make friends during your Uni studies. If you're not particularly comfortable starting up a conversation with a random in class, get involved in a university club or two.

Lectures can be skipped – Yes and No. Lectures are usually recorded and made available online, so technically, you don't need to attend in person. However, there is good reasons why you should go to every class. Attendance might form part of a percentage of your final mark. You're paying to sit in that lecture theatre, so you might as well show up and enjoy it. Lectures provide an opportunity to make new friends and of course, impress a lecturer or two. Lecturers are great contacts for future employment.

Tips for making the most of O Week

After leaving school, the big, wide world of TAFE or Uni can be downright 'scary' for a fresh high-school graduate. Luckily, all universities provide some type of orientation, known as O Week, for new students to welcome them and give them a chance to get to know the environment before classes start. Click here to read tips about O Week generally including:

- Stepping out of your comfort zone,
- Get organised
- If you already know people at uni, join forces
- If you get lost, there's an app for that!
